Third Quarter Financial and Operating Highlights:

- COMEX copper averaged $4.23 per pound during the quarter, 12.0% higher than in the third quarter of 2023.
- The increase in net sales was attributable to the inclusion of $102.4 million of sales from recently acquired businesses, as well as the higher copper prices.
- Selling, general, and administrative expenses increased primarily due to the inclusion of $3.9 million of operating costs from recently acquired businesses, as well as $2.7 million in transaction related expenses.
- Investments in unconsolidated affiliates contributed $3.2 million of income, as compared with a $2.4 million loss in the prior year period.
- Net cash generated from operations was $231.4 million. Our cash and short-term investments balance was $969.6 million at quarter end, and our current ratio remains strong at 4.9 to 1.

Regarding the quarter performance, Greg Christopher, Mueller's CEO said, "We continued to deliver very good results, and generated significant cash despite generally restrained business conditions during the quarter. We also made substantial progress toward integrating our two recently acquired businesses, which both contributed positively to our results."

He continued, "We anticipate that declining interest rates and moderating inflation, combined with the resolution of election related uncertainty, will create a more stable and favorable environment for us. We have an excellent portfolio of businesses serving essential markets; our operations are well capitalized; our balance sheet is strong; and we have proven capable of quickly adjusting and adapting as conditions
